The Wandering Gourmand
A Food and Craft Beer Travel Blog by Bryan Richards.

A 48-Hour Charlotte Brewery Tour

FRIDAY EVENING

Your Charlotte brewery tour begins in the hip NoDa neighborhood
A. Birdsong Brewery Jalapeno Pale Ale & local art
B. NoDa Brewing Hop Drop & Roll IPA / Coco Loco Porter
C. Free Range Brewing Farmhouse ales

Finish the evening with dinner at either Heist Brewery (D) or Growlers Pourhouse (E). Enjoy a nightcap at Salud Bottle Shop (F).

SATURDAY

Start the day with breakfast at Green's Lunch (A) and an exploration of Uptown Charlotte. Today's brewery tour features a South End brewery crawl
B. Olde Mecklenburg Brewery Brats, German lagers, and killer beer garden

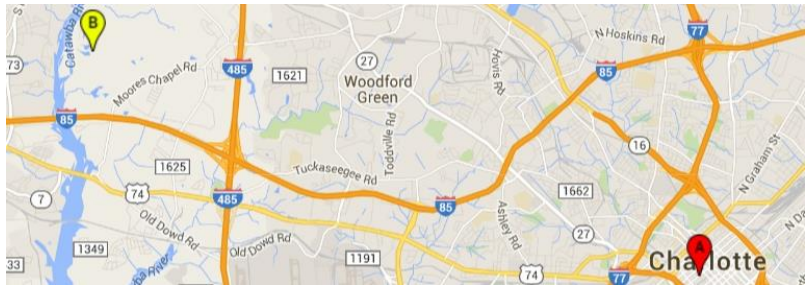

South End Brewery Tour (take your pick)
C. Sugar Creek Brewery
D. Triple C Brewing
E. Lenny Boy Brewing
F. Sycamore Brewing
G. Wooden Robot Brewery
H. Unknown Brewing

Along the way, find dinner at a brewery food truck, The Liberty (I) for gastropub fare, or Sauceman's (J) for authentic Southern BBQ. Finish the night at Legion Brewing (K).

SUNDAY

As North Carolina law does not permit the sale of alcohol before noon on Sundays, the morning will be for sobering up. Enjoy breakfast at Amelie's Uptown (A) and then head out to the US National White Center (B) for some adventure. Once the clock ticks 12, the Whitewater center offers plenty of local beer.

Copyright © 2016 by The Wandering Gourmand. All rights reserved.