The Wandering Gourmand
A Food and Craft Beer Travel Blog by Bryan Richards.

A 48-Hour Jacksonville Brewery Tour

FRIDAY EVENING

Your Jacksonville brewery tour begins at the beach (which is also where I recommend you stay…)

1. Really Good Beer Stop Stock up on supplies for the beach at this bottle shop.
2. Engine 15 Brewing Artfully crafted American influenced craft beers.
3. Zeta Brewing Your stop for dinner and more beer.
4. Green Room Brewing Surf inspired beers. Ask for season Quetzalcoatl!
5. Hoptinger Beer Garden and Sausage House Late night beers and snacks.

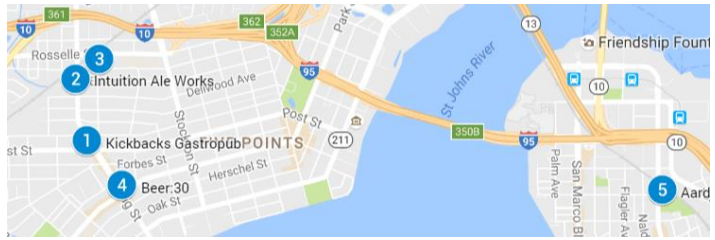

SATURDAY

Start the day with breakfast at Maple Street Biscuit Co (not on map) and a morning laying out at the beach. History buffs can skip the beach and head to Beaches Museum and History Park (not on map).

Today's brewery tour features the Riverside and San Marco neighborhoods

1. Kickbacks Gastropub Incredible tap list, bottle collection, and beer inspired food menu.
2. Intuition Ale Works Specializes in barrel aged, Belgian, sour, and American standard ales.
3. Bold City Brewery Jacksonville's first independently owned brewery.
4. Beer 30 Bottle shop with good Florida taps.
5. Aardwolf Brewing Amazing Belgian and sour beers.

SUNDAY

Start the day with a leisurely brunch with a view at Casa Marina Hotel and Restaurant (1). Then, more beach or enjoy the great outdoors with a kayak rental at Talbot Islands State Park (2). One your way out of town, visit Jacksonville's remaining two independent breweries: Pinglehead Brewing (3) or Veteran's United Brewing (4).

Copyright © 2016 by The Wandering Gourmand. All rights reserved.